FARMERS' UNION PRESIDENT WRITES INCISIVE STATEMENT

CITIZENS PLAN FINE DRIVEWAY

Connect Piedmont Park, Grant Park and Ponce de Leon.

$200 RAISED AT MEETING

This Amount Will Be Supplemented by Other Sums and Will Be Used to Beautify Strips of Property Along North Boulevard.

At a meeting of citizens held at the residence of William J. Campbell, 246 North Boulevard, last evening, steps were taken to forward a movement which means for Atlanta a fine driveway which will connect Piedmont Park and Ponce de Leon with Grant Park and give to the citizens of Atlanta a well-paved boulevard across the city making a connecting link between three of the most important pleasure resorts.

The meeting was for the purpose of getting the citizens of the third and fourth wards interested in the plan and to take such steps as would be necessary to secure city legislation to make a driveway from Piedmont Park to Grant Park via the North and South Boulevards.

Both the North and the South Boulevards are wide thoroughfares and are built up with some of the best residences in the city. It is the only thoroughfare which connects Grant Park with Piedmont Park and consequently the north side with the south side in the eastern part of the city.

Nearly All Paved. South Boulevard has been paved with Belgian block from Grant Park to Fair Street. North Boulevard is paved nearly all the way from Decatur street to Piedmont Park.

Recently the general council has had the underpass, connecting the two boulevards, well paved.

On North Boulevard the citizens have donated strips of land on both sides of the street for park purposes and the city council has agreed to improve the strips, so that not only will the Boulevard make a connecting driveway across the city but it will be one of the most attractive drives in the city.

For many years Atlanta has wanted a driveway across the eastern portion of the city so as to afford those who visit the pleasure resorts an opportunity to drive across from one to the other without having to pass through the congested business section. The development of the Boulevard driveway will solve the question.

All citizens as well as those who reside in the third and fourth wards are interested in the movement and it is believed the recommendations which are made will be adopted by the mayor and general council.

At the meeting $200 was raised as a nucleus for a fund to beautify the strips of property all along North Boulevard and this amount will be increased by other subscriptions.

The meeting was a very enthusiastic one. There were present E. W. Featherston, William S. Thomson, W. S. Featherston, L. E. Bennett, A. T. Wilk, Robert Adair, H. G. Randall, W. M. Terry, M. E. Turner, J. T. Bond, Gordon Mitchell, J. N. Bateman, W. M. McElreath, C. R. Haskins, W. H. Stearns, R. C. Roache, T. E. Howard, W. W. Rushon, W. J. Campbell.

There was organized a permanent association to be known as the Boulevard Parkway Association, which will have for its object the development of a driveway from Piedmont Park to Grant Park and the extension of the driveway north of Piedmont Park.

W. J. Campbell was elected president, and W. F. Featherston, secretary and treasurer. A committee was appointed to confer with the city council and the board of county commissioners.

It is the intention to ultimately extend the driveway from the Federal person to the north beyond Piedmont Park.

Un the Free Pass Immigration Order of the Railroad Commission.

PRESIDENT DUCKWORTH CALLS ORDER A SCHEME

For Which He Holds the Administration Responsible, and He Calls for Some Joint Debates on the Subject.

President R. F. Duckworth, head of the Farmers' Union of Georgia, yesterday afternoon furnished to the press of the state the following intensely incisive communication dealing with the order of the railroad commission of March 27, and made public on April 14, when Correspondent Tim, of The Macon Telegraph and The Augusta Chronicle, got on the track of it and secured it for publication.

As is well known, the Farmers' Union has strongly opposed the immigration movement, urging, among other things, that it was not only a threat to Georgia labor, but that another of its effects would be the cheapening the price of cotton.

During the past year practically every Farmers' Union organization in the state protested against the state's taking any part toward the promotion of immigration, and it was largely through its organized effort that the last session of the legislature took no action on the question.

President Duckworth evidently takes violent exception to the order of the commission, at the issuance of which he expresses his astonishment.

His statement is as follows:

President Duckworth's Statement.

"To the Public: In the state papers of April 14 I find, much to my astonishment, an order issued by the railroad commission of Georgia on March 27 as follows:

"March 24, 1908. File 7333. Mr. John A. Betjeman, Chairman, Albany, Ga.—Dear Sir: The communication addressed by you to the railroad commission of Georgia making application for the suspension of the order of this commission relative to the issuance of free transportation, so far as you are chairman of the Georgia Immigration Association are concerned, has been considered by the board that the issuance of transportation by the railway companies in this state to you as chairman of the association referred to does not come within the class of transportation prevented by this order, and if any railroad company in this state should be inclined to issue you transportation upon the account stated, this will be their authority to do so, it being now held that such issuance is not in conflict with any rule or order of this commission. This authorization, however, is subject to repeal at any time, but of any such action all parties will have due notice.

"By order of the commission, "GEO. F. MONTGOMERY, Secretary."

"When the governor told us that he believed he could convince the people of his position, we thought that he meant in a public discussion of the question, and we told him that we would be glad to see him try it.

"In fact, we thought that if he wanted to discuss the question before the public, the Farmers' Union would be glad to have a representative present to present its side of the question, but from this clipping it seems that the governor did not mean that he would meet fairly and squarely upon the stump the views of the Farmers' Union and discuss the question before the public, but that it was his purpose to have the railroad commission to assist the bringing of immigrants by furnishing free passes to

PANIC CAUSED BY GAMBLERS, CROZIER VOWS

In Picturesque Language Charge Is Made to House Banking Committee.

MEN WHO CAUSED PANIC BACKING ALDRICH BILL

Crozier Alleges That Conspiracy to Cause Financial Storm Carried With Understanding That Wall Street Would Get Some Measure Like Aldrich Bill.

Washington, April 16.—In picturesque language, at times violently denunciatory, Alfred O. Crozier, of Wilmington, Del., today told the house committee on banking and currency that he has unearthed a secret scheme for a compromise on the Aldrich currency bill. He intimated plainly that the members of the currency commission and the American Bankers' Association did not act fairly with the banking and currency committee in unanimously opposing the Aldrich bill yesterday.

He charged in addition that the late panic was deliberately brought on by Wall street men for the purpose of getting some such bill as the Aldrich measure through congress.

"While opposing the bill 'on principle,' he said, 'the members of that commission objected to it because the emergency currency was to bear 6 per cent interest and are ready to support it now if the interest is reduced to 3 per cent.'

Alleged Plan to Cut Tax.

"Last evening our distinguished banking friends held a conference," he said. "Today they are having another, with the wicked promoters of the wicked Aldrich and Vreeland bills. What for? They are agreeing on a compromise. On what basis? Just a simple little amendment reducing the tax to 3 per cent and some other minor changes."

"If this committee had not honored me with this opportunity to speak at this point to the public hearing," said Mr. Crozier, "and if one of the distinguished bankers who addressed you yesterday had not mistaken me last evening for one of their fraternity and unreservedly told me the whole program, the trick would have been turned quickly and suddenly."

"The Aldrich bill," Mr. Crozier declared, "is a gambling game from start to finish. It is a scheme here by gamblers and promoted by gamblers for gambling purposes."

Wall Street Caused Panic.

He asserted that he knew the late financial stringency was brought on deliberately by Wall street men.

"I was told in Wall street that such a measure as the Aldrich bill was being brought before congress and that a panic would precede it."

Mr. Prince suggested that this charge was a very serious one, and ought not to be made on opinion but on actual facts.

Mr. Crozier replied that if a commission was appointed, he would furnish a list of witnesses to the counsel by whom this charge can be proved.

As an evidence of the conspiracy to bring on a panic, Mr. Crozier said a prominent financier told the president of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Company, that it was to be brought on before the meeting of congress and on that information he said the railroad borrowed $30,000,000.

Refused to Give Name.

Urged to tell who the financier predicting the panic was, Mr. Crozier said he did not like to give his name at this time, but would give it to the counsel of any commission congress might appoint to investigate the causes of the recent financial crisis. He predicted that when the panic was finally investigated, it would be seen that there had been a concentration of banking capital in New York.

A CLEAR CASE OF PEONAGE.

FOR "DRY" STATE CARMACK FIGHTS

Ex-Senator and Gov. Patterson Debate at Chattanooga.

Tennessee Called on to Decide Between Local Option and Prohibition—Thousands Heard the Joint Debate at Chattanooga.

Chattanooga, Tenn., April 16.—Ex-Senator Edward W. Carmack and Governor M. R. Patterson opened their joint debate in the gubernatorial campaign in this city tonight. Thousands were turned away from the auditorium, being unable to get inside the doors.

This campaign is the hardest fought since the period of the civil war. The contestants are giants in politics and masters in oratory, and their followers are worked up to a high pitch of enthusiasm.

Train loads of people came into this city from all sections of Tennessee, Alabama and Georgia to hear the debate.

The issue in the campaign is statewide prohibition as against local option. Ex-Senator Carmack has come out for statewide prohibition.

FIRE STAMPEDES ELEPHANTS AND THEY TRAMBLE AND KILL

Riverside, Cal., April 16.—As a result of a fire which started today at the Standard Oil Company's storage tanks, a herd of elephants were stampeded, L. J. Worsley lies at the city hospital fatally burned, and Miss Ella Gibbs, a church deaconess, is dead.

Worsley was a driver of the delivery wagon from which the fire was communicated to the tanks which exploded, and he was hurled many yards from the spot. The flames spread to the tanks, which instantly became a mass of flames.

A circus, three blocks distant, was about to open for the afternoon performance. The explosion and the fire caused the showmen to lower the tents, after dispersing the crowd which had assembled. The herd of elephants became uncontrollable, and they dashed to the east side of the town, knocking down fences, cutting houses, and despoiling orchards that lay in their path. Many persons narrowly escaped the infuriated animals. All but the largest of the herd of elephants was soon rounded up. The leader of the herd then changed his course toward the city, one mile distant, and entered the court of the famous Glenwood hotel. Miss Gibbs was in the yard in front of the house. The elephant plumed her against the house between his tusks, threw her to the ground and trampled on her, crushing her chest so that she died at 10 o'clock tonight. The animal then proceeded to the doorway, the guests running, panic stricken, indoors. D. F. Chapman, a guest of the house, attempted to swerve the animal from the court. He was knocked down and had several ribs broken and was otherwise injured.

The beast crashed through the doorway, trampled the barber shop and out on the main street, crossed the street and crashed through the heavy plate glass window in a store. Before being rounded up at a downtown public square, the animal trampled on another man and seriously gored him with his tusks.

One of the keepers attempted to subdue the animal, but was hurled over a high fence, sustaining painful injuries.

HOUSE IS THROWN BY WITTY SPEECH OF WILLIAMS.

HUMOROUS VIEW OF NAVY CHILD CONSIDERED "JONAH"

Washington, April 16.—Just before the passage by the house today of the naval appropriation bill, Representative John Sharp Williams got the floor and delivered one of the wittiest speeches ever heard in that chamber. He seemed at his best and he threw the house into a tumult.

Availing himself of the twenty minutes allowed for discussing, he said it was never out of place to read lessons upon civic righteousness to the republican party. He then proceeded to declare that wood pulp and print paper were germane to the bill, because it was of the very highest necessity to the navy to spread intelligence to the people, so that they might know how much of a navy was necessary for national defense.

Mr. Williams proceeded to discuss the naval bills. He traced the history of the naval construction of the world, beginning with battles in canoes, and declared that "from that day to this the genius of mankind in warfare, in the management of ships, has been directed to getting away from one another when they were fleeing or catching one another when they were desirous of fighting."

Getting Away and Getting At. He convulsed the house when he said

CITY POLICE AND FIREMEN MAY RIDE FREE

Council Committee Believes Railroad Commission Will Now Modify Order.

FOR A SECOND TIME APPEAL WILL BE MADE

Conference is Held by Council Committee, City Attorney and President of Street Car Company. Policemen and Firemen Only to Be Considered.

It may be coming a little late, but it now looks as if the policemen and firemen of Atlanta will soon get to ride free on the street cars. That is, if certain conjectures made at a conference yesterday afternoon are all at correct.

Alderman Quillian, Alderman Hancock, City Attorney Mayson and Preston S. Arkwright, president of the Georgia Railway and Electric Company, held a conference in the mayor's office at 3 o'clock for the purpose of ascertaining if anything could be done to secure free transportation for certain city employees on the street cars.

It was stated that the council committee had been before the railroad commission about such free transportation some time ago, and was handed a lemon the commission declining to modify its rules in any way.

The council committee had tried to make some sort of a contract with the street car people with a view to offering certain considerations in exchange for free transportation. This also failed.

Nearly four months passed away and nothing definite was accomplished.

Did Not Want Contract.

At the conference held Thursday President Arkwright stated that his company did not wish to ride the city employees free under any contract with the city. He did not think that that was the way to arrive at a solution of the matter.

"I believe," stated Mr. Arkwright, "that when we ride city employees free it should be done because such employees are entitled to free transportation on account of public service. I think that the firemen and policemen ought to ride free, but I do not think this should apply to other city employees, for firemen and policemen perform a public duty, which can be made more efficient if they are given free transportation. To ride these men free would aid the city in giving the people protection. In other departments it would be merely a matter of reducing expenses."

Alderman Hancock said that the committee should either do something or quit.

Alderman Quillian said that perhaps the legislature could be induced to amend the rules governing the railroad commission so as to except firemen and policemen in the matter of free passes.

Mr. Arkwright said he felt very sure that the railroad commission would amend its order right now if the council committee made the request. He believed, however, that only free transportation for firemen and policemen should be asked for.

Thinks Rule Will Be Modified.

"I feel pretty sure, if this committee will now go before the railroad commission," stated Mr. Arkwright, "and ask that the free-pass order be modified so as to let firemen and policemen ride free on the street cars, that the petition will be granted."

City Attorney Mayson stated that the committee could make another effort to get the railroad commission to do something, and, if that was another refusal, then an appeal could be made to the legislature.

The members of the committee decided to go before the railroad commission at an early day and ask for free transportation for firemen and policemen, and they seem to think that there is a strong probability of their request now being granted.

Alderman Oullian and Alderman Hancock, however, would very much like to have the sanitary inspectors and the waterworks men included. It looks, from what has been said, that if only firemen and policemen are included in the request the railroad commission will not hand out a lemon this time.

BIRTH RATE IN TRUST FAMILY BIG ENOUGH FOR ROOSEVELT

Detroit, Mich., April 16.—William J. Bryan tonight concluded a two days speaking trip through Michigan, with an address before a large audience in the Light guard armory on "The Point of View." Mr. Bryan said in part: "In 1896 President McKinley said that what we needed was the opening of the mills instead of the opening of the mint. Now, with industry lagging and multitudes out of employment, we are told that we ought to start the printing press and to go to work in-using more bank notes, instead of turning the wheels of industry. The trust, whose existence was denied by the republicans a few years ago, is now an admitted evil and while the president has gained popularity by a few cautious he has not yet sent a trust magistrate to the penitentiary, and since the birth rate in the trust family is greater than the death rate, we may assume this is one family at least, which measures up to the president's ideas in regard to the size of families."

18 Negroes Charged With Trespass.

Macon, Ga., April 16.—(Special.)—Deputy Frank and Dave Riley, Detective Tom Jones, Deputy Joe Wilson and other officers connected with the sheriff's force, marched eighteen negroes to the county jail through town this afternoon from a private place of residence in South Macon, where the prisoners were engaged in a baseball game. The negroes were chained together and presented the appearance of the most ing of some convict camp. The negroes were charged with trespassing on posted lands.

COTTONMILL MEN MEET IN BOSTON

84th Annual Meeting of National Manufacturers.

CONFERENCE AT ATLANTA

President Hartshorne Calls it Epoch Making Event and Says It Has Been Unduly Over Shadowed by the Panic Conditions.

Boston, April 16.—Cotton manufacturers and persons connected with allied industries from all parts of the United States were in attendance today at the eighty-fourth annual meeting of the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers.

President William D. Hartshorne, of Lawrence, Mass., called the convention to order, and Acting Governor Draper welcomed the members of the association to the state.

The President's Address.

President Hartshorne addressed the convention in the afternoon. "One of the most important events in the past six months which our panic stricken industry has witnessed," he said, "is the holding of this annual meeting of the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers. It is an epoch-making event, and it is one which will be remembered by those who took part in it. The meeting together face to face of rival interests and the formulating of resolutions covering so many details in regard to cotton-growing industry and the trade relations governing the same, where it was necessary for absolute unanimity to carry any resolution was a noteworthy achievement."

Manufacturers from the United States, many from across the water, and representatives from the cotton exchanges met the planter upon his own ground, and it is the credit of the planter that he acknowledged without cavil the handicap which faulty methods had placed upon the cotton-growing industry and which was reflected back against him by the serious results to the cotton spinners. Some of the methods of the cotton exchange received the strongest condemnation of both spinners and planters, but against efforts for absolute unanimity out of existence, wiser counsel prevailed.

Permanent Organization.

"It is to be regretted that the matter of permanent organization has so far eluded the cotton men," he said. "The first setback came from the British Master Cotton Spinners' Association, a branch of the international federation, who claimed that to multiply organizations would not be to the benefit of the industry, their efforts being confined to endeavors to unite our manufacturing industries on this side of the water with the cotton men of the United States. This would seem practically impossible of attainment, even in the case of the cotton men of the United States. The only kind of organization of interest would be one which could be represented in periodicals, conferences, which it was the object of the permanent organization to foster and maintain. Possibly this matter may be taken up more advisedly at the European conference at Paris, which meets in June, next, and to which our association has appointed five delegates, whom we trust will be able to return to us with valuable information there acquired."

The annual dinner of the association was held tonight at the Hotel Brunswick.

ENGINEER FELL ASLEEP.

This Caused Wreck on London and Northwestern Last October.

London, April 17.—The editorials in this morning's newspapers all reflect the intense disquietude of the public of mind arising out of the report of the board of trade that the wreck of the London and Northwestern Railway at Shrewsbury, on October 15, last, in which 19 persons were killed and about 40 injured, was caused by the engineer of the engine falling asleep at his post.

It appears that the engineer had been working at his duties for from ten to twelve hours during the four previous nights, the newspapers suggest, a peculiar cause for other great wrecks. The incident is being used to assist the agitation for shorter hours for railway employees.

Pain Weakens

Headache, rheumatism, neuralgia, or pains of any nature weaken the system—they are a strain upon the nerves. Almost instant relief can be obtained by taking Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills, and without any bad after-effects. Take one on first indication of an attack—it will ward it off. They are a pleasant little tablet, sold by druggists everywhere, 25 doses 25 cents; never sold in bulk.

I was subject to constant headache for a period of four years. At times I was almost unfit for the work in which I am engaged, that of station agent. Through the advice of a friend I tried Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills, and the result has been that I have entirely eradicated my system of those continuous headaches that follow a continued mental strain. They have done for me all that is claimed for them.

DON'T BE MISLED.

The retail druggists of this country, as a class, are noted for their high standard of intelligence and honorable dealing, but it is a well-known fact that occasionally you will find one who will try to sell you something else when you call for a remedy of established reputation. He forgets that your health is more important than his pocketbook.

For example, when you ask for Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great Kidney, Liver and Bladder Remedy, don't allow any druggist or drug clerk to persuade you into buying something else in its place. Every time he succeeds in selling you a worthless substitute he makes more profit, but you are humbugged at the expense of your health.

Swamp-Root is prepared only by Dr. Kilmer & Co. Laboratories, Binghamton, N. Y.—Don't experiment—if you need a medicine you should have the best.

Proviso Limiting Secretary to Holland Type Stricken.

LONG WRANGLE OVER BILL

The Members Haggled Over Almost Every Line of Naval Measure. Williams Makes Humorous Speech, Using Hobson for Text.

Washington, April 16.—The long-existing controversy as to whether the United States should have submarine torpedo boats of the Holland type, as recommended by the committee on naval affairs, was settled in the house of representatives today when, after a lengthy and lively debate, the proviso limiting the secretary of the navy to purchase only boats of the Holland type was stricken out. The effect of this action was to give the secretary a free hand in the selection of submarine boats.

The members haggled over almost every line of the bill, and the pages of the bill remaining to be disposed of when the house met, but the principal action was that with regard to the submarines. A humorous speech by Mr. Williams, in which he had several clashes with Mr. Hobson, of Alabama, over warships and balloons, commanded the attention of the house for some time.

After agreeing to take up the diplomatic and consular appropriation bill next, the house at 5:15 recessed until 11:30 tomorrow.

NEGOTIATIONS HAVE FAILED

Pensacola Street Cars Are Still Operated Under Protection of Troops.

Pensacola, Fla., April 16.—Announcements made tonight that all negotiations looking for a settlement of the street car strike here have failed and the fight settles down to a struggle between labor for the strongest union labor laws in the south, and the syndicate backed by millions. Street cars are operated under protection of the state troops, there being 60 on duty. Because of the presence of troops in Pensacola, the annual state encampment has been called off. One act of violence today was when a boy in the suburbs threw a brick into a car. No one was injured, and the boy was arrested.

Rome, Ga., April 16.—(Special.)—News has reached Rome of the promotion of John H. Towers, of this city, to the position of ensign in the United States navy. He entered the naval service on his graduation from the naval academy as a midshipman. Mr. Towers is at present with the battleship Kentucky and served as spotter during the target practice at Magdalena Bay.

TEACHERS MEET AT MONTGOMERY

Alabama Educational Association Meets in 27th Annual Session.

Montgomery, Ala., April 16.—(Special.) The Alabama Education Association met this afternoon in its twenty-seventh annual session. The president, W. R. Harrison, was in the chair. The initial session was held at the Grand theater, which was filled with a thousand teachers and many local enthusiasts when Dr. B. J. Baldwin, president of the Montgomery board of education, arose to deliver the welcoming address. Response was made by D. S. Burslen, of the Normal school at Florence. In his address President Harrison reviewed the work of the year and the movements that have been begun for the benefit of the children and the schools. After the address committees were named and members were enrolled. The opening event of the evening was an address of H. C. Gurnea, state superintendent of education, in which he discussed "Alabama's Educational Uplift." Dr. Lincoln Hulley, president of the Stetson university, at Deland, Fla., made a great hit in his address on "Fads in Education."

The city superintendents held their meeting in the morning and elected the following officers: President, J. M. Spefford, Uniontown; vice president, W. P. Jones, Gadsden; secretary, E. A. Miller, Blountsville; executive committee, J. B. Brown, Dothan, Ala.; J. B. Lockhart, Florence, and C. J. Owens, Abbeville. The college presidents met again this morning and took up the question of courses of study for the high schools.

Lovette, S. M. Hosmer, H. G. Pearce, J. H. Phillips. With a view of a permanent organization that may be of great help to all, the following were appointed a committee on such a movement: S. M. Hosmer, Greensboro; E. M. Shackelford, Troy; T. W. Palmer, Montevallo.

INDIAN FIGURES TO GO.

Oklahoma Will Bar Them as Signs for Tobacco Stores.

Guthrie, Okla., April 16.—Senator Landrum, a Cherokee Indian, introduced a bill prohibiting the use of Indian figures as cigar or tobacco signs.

Lard Laden Stomachs

"Necessity" is the mother of invention. Lard is the father of indigestion.

More than half the indigestion in the country to-day is directly attributable to greasy, indigestible food prepared with lard.

Cottolene is the original anti-lard product. It was the first, and it is the best. It is purer, more healthful, and will give better results than any other shortening medium.

Just as the original is always better than the imitation, Cottolene is superior to its imitators. Ask your grocer for Cottolene, and see that our trade-mark, a steer's head in a cotton-plant wreath, appears on the label.

Cottolene is never sold in bulk; therefore, is a cleanly product, absolutely protected from all the odors and dust to which lard is usually exposed in the ordinary grocery store.

Nature's Gift from the Sunny South

$500 MADE BY CIRCUS FOR OLD WOMEN'S HOME

The Sun Brother's circus contribution to the Home for Old Women in Atlanta, yesterday proved a generous one when the receipts were cast up last night, the amount turned over to the Atlanta Typographical and Barbers' Unions, under whose auspices the event occurred, being about $500.

At the afternoon entertainment there was only a fair crowd, but at night the big tent was well filled.

In the afternoon the circus had to play against the opening of the Southern League baseball season in Atlanta, and the permanent-raising event and for that reason the crowd was not large. As it was, something less than $200 was taken in by the main show, the side shows and the concert, while the big crowd was watching the Atlanta flag go up.

At night the receipts amounted to $289.25. From the minute the parade left the ground on Jackson street up to the time the cash was balanced, the circus was under the direct control and management of the printers and the barbers of the city. Representatives of both trades were in the parade, and wherever recognized on the streets were given a warm reception by their friends.

ADD CHAPTER TO GLOVER CASE

Augusta Bar Association Will Hear Charges Today Against Attorneys.

Augusta, Ga., April 16.—(Special).—Another chapter will be added to the famous Arthur Glover murder case tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock when the Augusta Bar Association will take up the charges against Attorneys C. A. Piquet and A. L. Franklin, who represented Glover when he was tried for his life.

The charges were brought against these two attorneys and were referred to a committee from the association. Judge Calloway was the chairman of this committee and he has a report ready for the meeting tomorrow morning.

It is learned from a reliable source that there will be two or three very spicy speeches made at the meeting. The meeting will be held in the open instead of behind closed doors as was first expected. The defendants in the case demanded an open investigation.

Just what will be the outcome of the case is not known but the bar association has no right to do further than investigate the case. If any further steps are taken it will have to be in the higher courts.

Receiver Was Appointed.
Gardner Made Temporary Receiver of Middle Georgia Cotton Mills.

Easton, Ga., April 16.—(Special).—Under a petition filed by Thomas G. Lawson, representative of the bondholders and other creditors, praying that the Middle Georgia Cotton Mills be adjudged bankrupt and placed in the hands of a receiver, Hiram L. Gardner, of this place, was made temporary receiver by Judge H. G. Lewis, of the Ocmulgee circuit.

The petition will be heard by Judge Lewis at Grays during the Jones county superior court, on the 22d instant.

Because of inability to sell its products, the mill has been closed for several months, which, together with the fact that no dividends had ever been declared, formed the basis of an action at the March term of court against the mill by Mrs. Susan E. Jones, a stockholder, in which she asked for the appointment of a receiver, charging mismanagement. This petition was not granted by the court, because the charges were not sustained. The present action is taken with a view of winding up the affairs of the mill, and likely contemplates a future reorganization of the business. It is confidently stated by those concerned that the creditors will be paid in full.

Violent Attack on Leopold.
Brussels, April 16.—A feature of the debate today on the Congo annexation treaty in the chamber of deputies was the violent attack made on King Leopold by the socialist deputy, M. Bertrand, who accused the king of squandering millions on palaces and restaurants which ought to be devoted to the needs of the natives of the Congo independent state.

Heavy Rains in Putnam.
Easton, Ga., April 16.—(Special).—Within the last twenty-four hours this section has been visited by terrific rains. At least five or six inches of water has fallen and great damage has been done.

The streets and sidewalks are badly washed, freshly plowed fields are cut into cuts, and streams are greatly swollen. Several bridges have been reported washed away. Further damage will likely be discovered later.

Smith, coroner; Ernest Johnson, treasurer; O. B. Pearce, surveyor; W. F. Brown and M. D. Watkins were again nominated representatives without opposition.

Cairo, Ga., April 16.—(Special).—The primary election for county officers held here yesterday, resulted as follows: W. S. Wright, representative; P. H. Herring, ordinary; W. T. Crawford, clerk superior court; E. F. Jones, county surveyor; E. G. Harrell, coroner; L. L. Barwick, J. L. Peebles and Albert Powell, county commissioners.

For Cairo city court the vote was practically solid. R. W. Ponder was nominated tax collector. In the receiver's race between W. Wynn and J. W. Cannon, it takes a second race to decide.

Norman Won by Three Votes.
Washington, Ga., April 16.—The official consolidated returns from all county precincts were made up this morning by the county executive committee. So close was the race between R. C. Norman and E. G. Harrell for the second place on the legislative ticket that the official count was necessary to determine the result. Norman received a majority of three votes and will be the colleague of Hon. R. O. Barksdale in the lower house.

Beacham and Heard Nominated.
Vienna, Ga., April 16.—(Special).—After a hotly-contested campaign a local vote was polled in the Dooly county primary today, resulting in the nomination of Dr. W. E. Beacham and Hon. J. P. Heard, Sr., as representatives; J. D. Hargrove, ordinary; J. Frank Powell, clerk superior court; C. L. Bennett, sheriff; H. C. Brown, tax receiver; C. R. Morgan, tax collector; B. M. Wood, treasurer; P. D. Royal, surveyor, and G. M. D. Peavy, coroner.

HOUSE THROWN INTO TUMULT

that the question was whether an American navy in the present day can get away from an enemy as rapidly as one could in the distant day to which he had been referring, or whether the American navy today could get at an enemy as effectively as in those remote periods.

Mr. Williams depicted the horrors of war, and said that when human science and progress had advanced the civilization of the world, and then had degraded it by teaching it more effective ways of killing one another, and loaded with vile salt-peter and with bullets were put upon the decks of the ships and fired broadcast at one another, regardless of women to be made widows and children to be made orphans, while man, dressed in a little brief authority, most ignorant of what he was most proud, was seeking the bauble reputation in the cannon's mouth.

He spoke of ships being at one time built of iron, and said it would have been foolish to have built too much of a navy; "plated with railroad iron," for fear an improvement soon might make the ships obsolete. Therefore, he said, "our wise ancestors" built only a few of them, about two at a time, so they could keep up with new types as new types arose.

Hobson Butts In.
Mr. Hobson interrupted Mr. Williams with the inquiry whether, in full consideration of all the history of naval architecture, the gentleman from Mississippi "finally finds himself on the side of the Merrimac or Monitor?"

Mr. Williams replied that "a little cheese box upon a raft had won a great battle, and that once more the lesson was taught of not making appropriation for too many battleships at the same time." He was, he said, solemnly declaring upon his legislative responsibility, "my idea of what is good for the American navy."

Mr. Williams declared that if Tibertus should hear that America had constructed some of those 20,000-ton ships, Tibertus would construct some of 25,000 tons, and then the United States would have to construct some of the same kind. "War lords must keep on grounds of equality with one another."

"When ships begin to sail through the air," he said, "it will not be long before we are equipping and officering and manning dirigible balloons for the purpose of destroying—no, not to destroy anything, nor for making war at all, but for the purpose of preparing for peace, filling the minds of the world with the idea that it is the ardent desire of the American people to go armed, in order that they may have no occasion or opportunity to attack anybody."

Mr. Hobson inquired if Mr. Williams, on meeting an enemy, "in his own lofty attitude, and his tire should be punctured at ten thousand feet, he would not prefer to have balloons ships of a little different and better type, and a few more of them than the other?"

Hobson Gets His.
He asked Mr. Williams if there would not perhaps be "more hot air escaping than there is today?"

"More than there is today," Mr. Williams declared, "but not more than there was yesterday." This reply was intended for Mr. Hobson. Mr. Williams said he did not want the house to think that because of the questions of Mr. Hobson "I am up in the air, because I am not." He had only been referring Mr. Hobson, he said, to the proposition that if they were ever to fight battles in the air, "the eloquence and oratory of my friend from Alabama, would keep pace with the other fellow. I tell you, when he described," said he, "to me that the Japanese are yearning for my blood and the blood and property of my children, how the yellow race is prepared to inevitably conduct a war upon the great white race, and how we must provide to take care of ourselves, do you know that after he got through with that argument I feared very much for them, and had to retire to the cloak-room for five or ten minutes to smoke in order that my frightened imagination would settle down and my reason take cool possession of me."

Some More for Hobson.
After Mr. Hobson had referred to "a poor yarn related by Mr. Williams yesterday," Mr. Williams said:

"Mr. Speaker, I decline to be inter-

Willis, a prominent citizen of Alcoa, a suburb of Brewton, today returned a verdict of death at the hands of party or parties unknown, and that the body was tied in an upright position to the ropes of the children's swing in order to indicate suicide.

It is said that Willis presented in Alcoa had become obnoxious to the citizens, and that he had been several times warned to leave because of his alleged conduct on a number of occasions. No clue has been found to the perpetrator or perpetrators.

ARMY COLONEL SENT TO EXILE

Roosevelt Has Banished Stewart to Wilds of Arizona.

CASE WITHOUT PRECEDENT

Nothing Like It in the Annals of the War Department—Friends of Colonel Stewart Are Moving for His Relief.

Washington, April 16.—The friends of Colonel William F. Stewart, of the coast artillery, who on October 3 last was ordered to the solitude of abandoned Fort Grant, Arizona, have so far succeeded in their campaign for his relief that prediction is made in authoritative quarters that Colonel Stewart will be permitted to choose as a place of residence some one of the Atlantic coast artillery posts. It is predicted the colonel will not be restored to command.

Peculiar Case.

The case of this officer is regarded as one of the most peculiar in the annals of the war department. The correspondence which is available shows that an official communication from the war department was addressed to him at his post, Fort Barrancas, Fla., last September, which reads:

"Pursuant to instructions from the president, the department is prepared to issue an order assigning you to station, probably Fort Grant, Ariz., without command. The president has directed, however, that before this order is issued an opportunity be given you to apply for immediate retirement."

Colonel Stewart's reply was:

"If appointed brigadier general will retire. If not, will remain on duty. He at the same time requested two months' leave of absence to arrange his personal affairs and settle his family. In case his banishment to Fort Grant should be ordered, he was refused this request. He then demanded to know what charges had been made against him and requested that he be given an opportunity to answer them.

Why Roosevelt Acted.

In answer, Colonel Stewart was informed that "the action of the president that determined your present status was based upon a report submitted and acted upon by the president, which contained the distinct recommendation that you be retained at Fort Grant until you reach the minimum age (62), permitting of your compulsory retirement by the president, unless in the meantime your application to be retired after forty years' service should be received; then, of course, you would be ordered to your home on retirement."

When information is sought as to just what may be the basis of such action, the only comment that is forthcoming is as to Colonel Stewart as an artillery commander is that he is temperamentally "impossible."

Fort Grant, where the colonel is now on "duty," is an abandoned fort in the wilds of Arizona. The colonel's command consists of a solitary caretaker and a cook.

MINNESOTA FOR TAFT.

Delegates Instructed to Stick to the Secretary Till He Wins.

Minneapolis, April 16.—The Minnesota republican convention today in a session that lasted two hours, elected four delegates at large to the national convention and alternates, nominated eleven presidential electors and passed resolutions instructing the delegation to vote for the nomination of Secretary of War Taft "until he is selected." The "big four" from Minnesota to the national convention are Frank B. Kellogg, of St. Paul; Walter W. Hoffendinger, of Minneapolis; State Senator Frank E. Putnam, of Blue Earth; and E. B. Hawkins, of Biwabik.

Harmony was the keynote of the convention, every element of contest being eliminated. The platform cordially indorses the policies of President Roosevelt, declares for the development of the waterways of the country, reaffirms allegiance to the protective tariff, but declares that the time has come for a revision of schedules.

HOTEL ST. REGIS, NEW YORK

The Acknowledged Leader
MODERATE RATES

New York has many famous hotels, but the St. Regis, at Fifth avenue and Fifty-fifth street, easily outranks all others. It has become the acknowledged leader, not only in the "city of great hotels" but in the world.

Those who have experienced the joys of living in this home-like and refined hotel do not need to be reminded of its superlative attractions. But many people who frequently visit New York have been denying themselves the pleasure of what might easily have been theirs under the mistaken notion that Hotel St. Regis is a place only for the very wealthy or the ultra fashionable, and that "common people" would feel out of place within its portals. The truth is the St. Regis is a place where all good people feel at home. With all its beauty and comfort-giving appointments, there is entire absence of exclusiveness.

You may live at the St. Regis for a day or a year confident that everything possible will be done to make your stay agreeable and at as fair a reckoning as at any high-class hotel.

In the matter of both restaurant and room charges there is moderation. To dine at the St. Regis costs no more than at other first-class hotels, while a large outside room may be had at $4 a day. The same with private bath at $5 ($6 for two people), or a parlor, bedroom and bath at $12.

Cornerstone and Arrange the Details.

Chairman John E. Murphy, of the auditorium-armory committee, has called a meeting for today, at noon, in the offices of President Peel, of the American National Bank of Atlanta.

The meeting is to be held for the purpose of working out the details of the building and arranging suitable exercises when the cornerstone is to be laid.

At this meeting the date on which these exercises will take place, who are to deliver the speeches and what will probably be deposited in the stone will be determined.

The foundation of the structure has been placed, and work is progressing upon it rapidly. It is the purpose of those in charge to have the building completed early in October. If possible, and hold the Atlanta horse show there on the dates already selected.

NOW THE HEAD OF BIG CONCERN

T. H. Bowles Elected President of Baltimore Trust and Guarantee Company.

Thomas H. Bowles, who formerly lived in Atlanta, and who has a large number of friends in the city and throughout the south, has been elected president of the Baltimore Trust and Guarantee Company, to take effect on May 1.

A telegram from B. N. Baker to The Constitution gave the news of Mr. Bowles' election.

The Baltimore Trust and Guarantee Company is one of the largest and strongest financial concerns in the country. It has a capital and surplus of $3,000,000.

Mr. Bowles was a citizen of Atlanta some twenty years ago. He married a daughter of Major Alexander T. Cunningham, one of the city's well-known capitalists, who died a few years ago.

Mr. Bowles resided in New Orleans after leaving Atlanta, and while there was the general agent for the Mutual Life Insurance Company, of New York. He had a rupture with President A. W. McCurdy, of that company, brought about by some disclosures which he made. Mr. McCurdy has since left the company.

For the past few years Mr. Bowles has been making his headquarters in New York.

PHYSICIANS NOTE VIEWS OF COOPER ON HUMAN STOMACH

A recent article in The New Orleans Item gives an account of the effect upon the medical profession of that city with regard to L. T. Cooper's theory that the human stomach is responsible for most ill health. The article is as follows:

"The astonishing sale of Cooper's Preparation in this city has now reached such immense figures that the medical fraternity have been forced into open discussion of the man's theories and medicines.

"The physicians seem to be divided with regard to the young man's success in New Orleans—some being willing to credit him for what he has accomplished, while others assert that the interest he has aroused is but a passing fad that will die out as quickly as it has sprung up.

"In a statement recently obtained from a well-known physician of this city, the position of those in favor of Cooper is well voiced. The doctor said: 'I am not a believer in proprietary medicines, but I must admit that some

LATE COMERS ARE SEATED; GRAND RULE IS ABOLISHED

By a vote of 289 to 254, the patrons of the Grand have voted that the rule which prohibits those coming after the curtain goes up from being seated until after the curtain goes down, shall be abolished, and accordingly the rule stands no more.

Wednesday Manager DeGivie stated that a number of patrons had complained that the rule was a hindrance and prevented many who could not get to the theater before 8:15 from coming at all, and asked that the "late rule" be abolished.

Manager DeGivie stated that the rule was inaugurated in order to please those patrons who stated that oftentimes the first act was marred and sometimes ruined by late comers being seated after the curtain went up.

He decided to leave the matter to a vote and those who attended the Wednesday and Thursday night performances were requested to vote either for or against the rule and leave their ballots at the box office.

When the vote was counted it was found that 289 had voted to abolish the rule and seat the audience as they came in, while 254 voted to keep the rule in vogue and seat only after the curtain had gone down the late comers.

ONLY TWO ROADS OUTSIDE THEATRICAL PARTY RATE

Southern Association of Theatrical Managers Win Fight for Party Rates.

It was announced last night by the Southern Theatrical Managers' Association that a number of other roads had joined the meeting of passenger men in Chattanooga, agreed to put on the party rate of 2 cents for parties of ten and over, and that now only two lines remain outside the fold, and as these are paralleled by other lines, the managers feel that their cause is safe.

As a result of the announcement of this new party rate by the Southern and Seaboard some time ago, the bookings at the Grand showed a marvelous increase. At the time the agitation for twelve attractions had been booked for next season, while since that time bookings have been made in such numbers that already dates have been given to over fifty attractions.

The Columbus Show Case Company has not only been running full time this year, but has been running overtime a good deal. The company's business shows an increase for the first quarter of this year of 25 percent over the corresponding quarter of 1907, and this fact in interesting as illustrating the generally reviving business conditions throughout the south.

INHALING GAS KILLED THREE

Four Others Ill from Same Cause---Jury Charges Incompetency.

Macon, Ga., April 16.—Three negro employees of the Royster Guano Company here came to their death today from inhaling poisonous gases while at work in the acid chamber of the company's factory, and four more are ill from the same cause, one probably fatally.

The dead: JOHN GILMORE, CHARLES GRIGGS, GREENE LOWDY.

Coroner Young empaneled a jury and held an inquest this afternoon on John Gilmore for all of the victims. The verdict of the jury is that "John Gilmore came to his death while in the discharge of his duty in the employ of the Royster Guano Company, due to the incompetency of Superintendent Stamps and Foreman Gonzales."

NATH THOMPSON SPEAKS AT THE Y. M. C. A. SUNDAY

A rousing mass meeting for men, led by Rev. Nath Thompson, will be the feature of the service at the Young Men's Christian Association, Pryor Street and Auburn avenue, Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Evangelist Thompson has been in the city for several days conducting a successful revival at the Wesley Memorial church, and the bare fact that he is to conduct this meeting for men Sunday afternoon will be sufficient to pack the hall with men eager to hear him. He is an evangelist of rare power and is in a class all to himself.

The service will therefore be unique in every way.

The subject chosen for the address is "Be a Man," and will give the speaker an opportunity not only to impress his individuality upon his audience, but also to drive home the gospel truth. There will be some special music in addition to the address, and altogether, the program will be the most attractive offered by the association for some time.

McRae, Ga., April 16.—(Special.)—As the eastbound train on the Seaboard Air Line railroad for Savannah was leaving Oswald, 6 miles west of McRae, yesterday afternoon, in charge of Conductor Morris and Engineer Gilstrap, a large pine tree fell across the track. The engineer displayed great coolness in reversing his engine and stopped the train. He struck the tree, however, with sufficient force to derail the engine, tender and baggage car. The track was so badly torn up that no trains were run in either direction for more than twelve hours. The passengers were badly shaken up and frightened, but no one was injured.

Go after 'em, Billy.—we're all with you!

Mark Twain will soon convert that heavy sea that struck him into a wave of prosperity.

Even what is called "a good trust" is bad enough to stampede a halleluia campmeeting.

It will certainly take an elastic currency to stretch as far as the navy Hobson advocates.

Congress still clings to the idea that war talk is cheaper than cold cash for new battleships.

No doubt the committee that is to investigate Wall street will find it empty, swept and garnished.

When there is a "reorganization of the house," it will take very little time to "tag" the working members.

New York justice springs another surprise by paroling a bigamist and sentencing him to support two wives.

They have to call out the police reserves when they want to oust a determined office holder in New York.

An exchange says congress is working hard for adjournment. It is news to hear that it is working hard for anything.

Paris is getting good enough to be lonesome, and impetuous Americans will have another excuse for staying at home.

Bonaparte is hot on the trail of the paper trust, and Cannon is cutting off escape by burning the woods around it.

The beautiful epitaph they wrote for the Maryland legislature may have been one of the conditions "that it do forthwith adjourn."

The president threatens congress; but even threats of the people to keep members at home doesn't give the people what they want.

That mayor of a Texas town who gets a salary of one dollar a year, want quick enough climbing a tree when the office took after him.

Bryan again charges Roosevelt with standing on Bryan platforms, and, of course, that means that they also leap up under the tonnage of Taft.

One hundred barrels of beer captured in Savannah. They seem to have enough there for double-barreled breastworks against the invading forces.

Secretary Taft "stopped over" in Washington recently and was introduced to his desk, which they have left in good order during the secretary's absence.

A New York politician complains that it takes two weeks to get to Denver; but that's a mere nothing to the man who expects to get four years out of it.

If Hearst wins the fight on that recount in the majority matter, he may yet have the satisfaction of walking in time to see Little Mac's term in it's expiring breath.

A Wisconsin man found $1,000 under an old carpet which his wife had ordered him to rip up. Spring cleaning loses many of its terrors when a man can beat a carpet out of $1,000.

You can tell that the baseball fever is running high when you hear a waiter in a restaurant call your order to the kitchen like this: "One three-bagger with a sacrifice on the side!"

THE ATHENS AND THE ATLANTA SPIRIT.

With "absolutely no opposition," the little city of Athens, a day or two ago, voted for a municipal bond issue of $75,000 to be expended for these three fundamentals of city maintenance:

New sewers!

Extension of water mains!

Improvement of park and recreation facilities!

And therein lies a lesson to Atlanta, capital city of the state, with wealth and a credit resource many times that of the thriving university town. It is a lesson, too, that is being handed us by numerous other Georgia towns at this time, towns fully alive to the advantage of buying imperative improvement at a time when they can be secured at rockbottom prices; and, what is of vastly more importance, to the first duty of safeguarding the health, the lives and the working capacity of citizens.

So vividly do the people of Athens realize the inseparable connection between proper sewerage and water facilities, and the elimination of disease and the protection of property from fire, that no opposition whatever manifested itself toward the proposal to increase the bonded indebtedness for the purposes specified; and already Athens has made large investments in these two vital directions.

A yet more significant lesson of the Athens instance is the fact that $25,000, one-third of the issue recently authorized, is to be expended for parking more perfectly the state university campus, a beautiful plat of 700 acres belonging to the state, but open as a play and recreation ground to all Athens.

The people of Athens, enjoying virtually as excellent health environment as Atlanta, do not intend to leave the task of insuring health altogether to Providence. They are providing sewerage facilities for homes not already thus equipped, water facilities where they are needed and equally essential recreation and fresh air facilities to the population of the city.

In Atlanta are 10,000 homes—more than the total number in Athens—absolutely without sewerage facilities! Calm, scientific analysis teaches us that each one of these homes, with its insufficient garbage-disposal service, is a possible breeding of disease for its own inmates and that of every other resident of the city!

In face of these facts, of long and proved knowledge, the people of Atlanta have been sitting supinely—they are now reacting passively—debating and hesitating, and quibbling and speculating vaguely about "economy" and "extravagance!"

WHILE EACH DAY, WITH THE CLOSER APPROACH OF SUMMER AGGRAVATING THE DANGER, WE CHALLENGE THE FORBEARANCE OF PROVIDENCE, WE LITERALLY INVITE AN EPIDEMIC OF TYPHOID FEVER AND OTHER DISEASES, BY OUR AMAZING POLICY OF POSTPONEMENT!

EQUALLY, we leave many homes at the mercy of fire by failing to provide them with adequate water facilities!

The needs of Athens trail the needs of Atlanta, faithfully; but the spirit of Athens seems to exceed in perception and business instinct the vaunted spirit of Atlanta!

THE OUSTING OF MCCARREN.

The temperature is pretty low when they can't stir up a rumpus in New York's political arena. There is never a time when some of the leaders or bosses are not engaged in the gentle art of revenge, and harmony is scarcer than radium.

This gracious spirit which prompts the swatting of the other fellow harder than he swats you is not confined to any particular party; it keeps both republicans and democrats in the spotlight. The trouble appears to be that both the parties in New York are overloaded with leaders, and there are, consequently, widely varying opinions as to how the "leading" should be done.

The reports coming from New York these days about the gatherings of both parties remind us forcibly of the good, old-time republican convention in the south; there is, perhaps, a little less of the head-splitting business, but the turmoil is all there.

At the present moment the democrats hold the boards, and Murphy & Co., of Tammany, have just succeeded in kicking out of the state convention, lock, stock and barrel, State Senator Patrick H. McCarren and his Brooklyn following.

Murphy and McCarren have been at outs ever since the last campaign for governor, when the McCarren following, presumably, at the instance of their leader, refused to support Hearst for governor. Perhaps there was also some political jealousy involved.

Murphy's time to get even came with the recent democratic convention, and he took full advantage of it. Now McCarren threatens to retaliate by preventing in future the election of a democratic mayor of New York. It would undoubtedly give Tammany a severe jolt should he succeed in making good his threat.

There will be no special sympathy for McCarren in the rest of the country, just as there would have been none for Murphy had McCarren got the upper hand and succeeded in unseating him. It is just another of those rows between the New York bosses over the spoils.

The people throughout the country have ceased to concern themselves seriously over these internal dissensions at this state. It is undeniable that the result has been to weaken the influence that New York at one time exerted in shaping national affairs; in fact, it has practically fallen from its one-time position of pivotal state.

Party disruption and party corruption, republican and democratic, have been the Delilah which has shown its locks of strength.

There will always be the same fierce competition for New York's large electoral vote; but as long as trickery and deceit and corruption are the weapons that must be used in the fight for it, the state, politically, cannot hope to retain its one-time lofty eminence.

NOTABLE ACHIEVEMENT OF DR. BROUGHTON.

"Financial stringency" does not seem to have laid its detaining fingers on the purse-strings of the philanthropic folk who are in practical touch with the humanitarian work being done in this city by Dr. Broughton.

Elsewhere in The Constitution is told the story of Dr. Broughton's achievement in raising $10,000 within the space of approximately a month to be devoted to the furtherance of the institutional enterprises undertaken by the influences he is directing.

From Georgia and the United States, and as far as England, large sums of money have been promised to aid in the completion of the infirmary now under way. Whole wards set aside for children and cripples, and private rooms set aside for certain classes of cases, have been endowed by persons of generous instincts who appreciate the non-denominational value of the work being prosecuted, and the splendid natural advantages offered by Atlanta for the creation of one of the greatest hospital and medical centers in the country.

Dr. Broughton and his coworkers are to be heartily congratulated on the spontaneity with which their appeals have been met. Attention is also called to the fact that the philanthropic enterprises thus vigorously advocated are by no means completed, and that many opportunities exist still for cooperation on the part of sympathetic Georgians and Atlantans.

KEEP YOUR COAT ON!

Georgia has fallen in line with other states. Symptoms of the most tremendous interest in and excitement over politics multiply unceasingly. Voters, men, and women, too, are delving into the fundamentals of questions as they never did before, questioning their neighbors, but, most of all, themselves.

Keep on your coat! Don't let foolish or hysterical talk of other people influence you. Analyze for yourself. The state and the nation are, equally, faced by grave issues. Gravity and conservatism are needed in their solution.

Work your own mental processes; don't depend on the other fellow's. Remember, he might have an ulterior interest in juggling with yours. The Constitution is giving the people of Georgia the unbiased material with which to formulate their verdict.

Read the evidence, weigh it for yourself, and—Keep on your coat!

Candidates are wasting time when they question the sincerity of their generous. They give all the campaign cigars to their husbands and None of them is running for exercise.

The campaign buttons convey an eloquent invitation to "hook on." Senator Beveridge has been talking to the college boys. At last Chancellor Day has met his match.

"Just From Georgia"

Same Old Feeling.

Sorter feel the of spring fever—
Gits up, gits up, gits up free;
Theroin' craps for campaign buttons
Neath the chinnyberry tree.
"Seven-up," too, gits hard knocks
Out thar, on the al' pine box!

Nothin' very new a-stirrin'
'Cept that health is mostly prime.
An' we only rise an' hustle
When the train comes in on time.
An' some folks the trains'll blame—
Stoppin' of a checker-game!

Life a-goin' free an' easy—
Happiness? A little bit!
What's the use to rise an' git thar
When thar's nothin' fer to git?
"Seven-up"—it's all the same:
High, low, Jack, sir, an' the game!

I quit grooving when I found that
The world didn't have time to listen.

You're not far from the Day of Judgment: Conscience brings it home
To you every day.

Some of us lose enough time waiting for the wagon to beat the fastest train to the Halleluia station.

Finding myself in this gloriously green old world, I don't lose any time wondering where I was a thousand years before I landed.

and we'd know her better if she'd only be

Life in the Settlement.

The Sweet Singer of Southwest Georgia sings the delights of life in that favored section:

"Riverbanks are crowded—
Boys with pine for hooks,
An' men a-ketchin' bigger ones
Than ever got in books.
(The Ananias clubs round here Are full—about this time o' year!)

"The stores are closed: The beef trust
Makes beef a costly dish;
It's time to take a holiday
An' stock a trust with fish!

Will git to heaven same day—perhaps!)

"The Demand of Genius."

The Cleveland Plain Dealer man has some exacting geniuses to contend with, and here is evidence of it:

"I'm a poetess," said the lady indignantly,
"not a geometricalian. I furnish the soul for my lines—I would scorn to provide the purely mechanical construction."

"I see," said the affable editor. "But as the meter of your poem is painfully glaring, I must decline to publish it."
The lady glared.

"Nonsense!" she said. "If the meter isn't right, make it so."
"But that," the editor mildly observed,
"is not in my line."

The poetess picked up her manuscript and started for the door. There she turned.

"I'd just like to know what you're paid to do," she remarked with withering sarcasm.

When the World Gets Happy.

W'en the world gets happy—
Happy on the way,
Though I dudge what's the matter
I help it with "Hooray!"

Down in the valley
What's the use to stay
When the world's on the mountain
A-hollerin' "Hooray!"

Happiness is ketchin'—
Hear me what I say!
You're lifted from the low grounds
When you learn to shout "Hooray!"

In Old Man's Country.

"That old chap, playing the fiddle—how old is he?"
"Sixty-nine—but you ought see his daddy!"

"Yes, the feller with the fiddle is 'the baby'; he's got two older'n him."
"My friend, how long do folks generally live in this settlement?"

"Well, that's a hard one. Hit's my experience, they most ingenuously lives as long as they can make mistake. The bus of men make mistake. In fact, some that set in to run fer office right after the civil war, an' hit never got the office, is runnin' yit, an' they'll never die whilst they're a-runnin', an' they'd be too happy to die in office if they ever git it!"

"Havin' Holiday."

Half a mile or more from town
Find me any day—
With the winds a-loafin' round,
Singin' on the way!

Thankful for a gleam o' sun,
For the wavin' grass,
An' a river on the run—
Natur's lookin' glass!

Tired enough o' human words,
Far away to fly
In the freedom o' the birds
An' the wide, kind sky!

"We understand that champagne is goin' up," says The Billville Banner,
"but it don't bother us, in this neck
of the woods; when champagne goes up, corn liquor goes down—every time the trains come in on time; too much, in fact, for this here community! But a strange thing happened here the other day, and it was this: Two old citizens got into a row, an' one hit the other 'side the head with a jug that had two gallons in it, an' the jug broke, an'
every drop was lost, an' when the case was called in court the judge decided that any man who would risk the breakin' of a two-gallon jug by hittin' a feller with it in dry territory was insane, and ought not to be fined for an affliction he couldn't help!"

Letters from the People

Says Let the Rule Stand.

Editor Constitution: From what classes of persons, are coming the protests against and the demand for, reversal of the committee's action in prescribing that nominations be made by popular vote.

The rule is right and the committee should adhere to it. Under the "county unit" rule a minority candidate may be nominated. It is entirely possible for a candidate who receives 70,000 votes or less, to secure the nomination over one who should receive 100,000 or more.

I am inclined to think that this shud-ding of tears by the "big" counties, over the wrong done the little ones is promise. Wait till the little ones complain and show some logical, sensible reason for complaint.

The rule is fair, it is just, it is right.
Let it stand.

W. R. RANKIN,

A Workman's View.

Atlanta, Ga., April 14, 1908.

Editor Constitution: I have refrained from having anything to say on the public issues now before the people of this state, preferring to leave the discussion of these important matters to able pens than mine, but when a candidate ceases to be a virtue, it is the duty of the common people, one of whom I am, to raise in their majesty and endeavor to correct the evils with which we are afflicted.

It was opposed to the increase of the railroad commission as an unnecessary expense to the taxpayers of this state and a grave menace to the best interests of the people of Georgia. It is a dangerous precedent to create offices to satisfy the personal ambition of a man, or set of men, for political purposes.

The feather that broke the camel's back was the little ostrich plume handed by this great and powerful quina-ry trust-makers to Mr. John A.
Betjeman, chairman of the Georgia Immigration Association, permitting him to accept and ride on free passes from all the railroads in the state.

I wish to say, we the common people of this country, regard this immigration movement in the most serious immoral to the best interests of the laboring masses, as its whole tendency is to cheapen labor and benefit only the corporations and capitalists.

Then why single out such a concern to vi-sitate the canal and primary law upon which this great commission was founded?
Will the people longer submit to the tyranny of the gods? Will they peacefully fold their arms and gently close their eyes and be led on over the precipice by political demagogues until their voices shall have ceased to be heard and their manhood lose its power? God forbid! Under the present status of affairs Georgia will never prosper.

Give us peace and prosperity again and the common people of Georgia have tardy progress and mitigated against the development of our abundant resources, and the laboring man work at remunerative wages for "the laborer is worthy of his hire," but don't allow any "free passes" to the privileged few.

Why Brown Should Be Elected Governor.

Editor Constitution: Brown should be elected governor of Georgia as an expression from the people of Georgia that they care more for their own prosperity and welfare than they do for any man's political aspirations.

The present administration in Georgia, along with like politicians in other states, pretend they are for the interests of the people, but have proved that they are not, by doing the very things which they, if statesmen, should know will stop the development and prosperity of any country.

The rights of property is one of the foundational principles of civilization, and when these rights are not respected and protected, civilization suffers according to the lack of such respect and protection.

It is just as much wrong to take property away from one man by law as in any other way. Laws are just as liable to be wrong in their conception as the men who make them. According to the law, "The bus of men make mistake," and we may, therefore, be excused from remarking that many men have been trying to make themselves
the "best" in this way lately.

Our "reformers" seem to be more interest on destroying property and demonstrating the power the "dear people" have entrusted to them, than in preserving prosperity. There is quite a difference between destruction and destruction, and our "reformers" seem to be particularly good at the latter.

As a traveling salesman, I wish to assure you it is very poor consolation to travel on 2 cents mileage and not be able to sell 25 cents out of what you did on 25 cents mileage.

In like manner it must be poor consolation to the laborer to know he can purchase railroad tickets for 25 cents a mile while he walks around the country
looking for a job.

Everybody who is acquainted with the subject knows that labor and all matterial, machinery an equipment that railroads have been advancing in price for the past few years, and that railroads have not increased their rates accordingly. Every business man in proportion as the volume of business increases, and that too much business for the equipment to handle it blocks everything and makes it less instead of more profitable.

The fact that railroads have some fact like this, people is no reason why we should desert them to bring their revenue to a point where they can't make expenses.

Real political economy does not mean low values.

The poorest people in the world are those whose values are the lowest and the wealthiest those whose values are the highest.

The opportunity of the working man is greatest where values are the highest and least where they are the lowest. The power of the rich is greatest where values are the lowest, and least where they are the highest.

So, why try to force the values of our country down by law when everybody, from the laboring man up, or down, is trying to hold them up, or more the benefit come in? It makes the rich more powerful and the poor more powerless.

Do the people of Georgia prefer the conditions of China with their low values, or of the United States a year ago with our high values?

They will answer in June.

Students Tonight.

Milledgeville, Ga., April 15.—(Special to The Constitution.) Dr. A. M. Soule, head of the agricultural department of the State University, will speak at the Georgia Normal and Industrial College tomorrow evening. President Parks is to be congratulated on bringing Dr. Soule to this city. The disappointment was very keen when the agricultural special came into Milledgeville in February without him and this opportunity to hear him will be greatly appreciated.

George W. Hollingshead and John A.
Sibley, two former students of the agricultural department of Athens, are taking a strong stand among our farmers, adding much to the general interest of our people in scientific methods in agriculture. President Parks is stressing everything pertaining to agriculture that it is reasonable to suppose will benefit the students of the Georgia Normal and Industrial College, and these bright girls will catch many valuable hints from Dr. Soule's lecture.

A Change in Laurens.

(From The Dublin Times.)

Two years ago Hoke Smith swept Laurens county. In fact, the other candidates were hardly in the running. Everybody that got in the way of the landslide was covered up. Many Georgians have a feeling of recollection of the sensation of getting between the grind-stones.

What the sentiment now is in the county cannot be told accurately.
There is, however, not the slightest doubt that there has been a great change. A large number who took an active interest in the nomination of the governor are now against him or have become lukewarm.

This is the situation in a nutshell just exactly as The Times sees it without prejudice or bias. What the 4th of June will bring forth, any reader of this paper can predict just as accurately as we can.

Bid for Whisky Vote.

(From The Sandersville Progress.)

Joe Brown, in his platform published last week, makes a direct bid for the whisky vote. He says: "If the people in the coming election choose members of the general assembly, who, in accordance with the will of their constituents, make any changes in the present law, I will sign the bill thus ordered by the people." It is a well known fact that the whisky element in Georgia has the approval of custom, while the new plan seems to be fair to the citizenship of the state, though less favorable to the local interests of the country counties, which city men do not understand and sufficiently appreciate to do justice.

Good-bye, Country Counties.

(From The Commerce News.)

But what has reform to do with All county lines are abolished, and the governor is to be named hereafter by the aggregate popular vote regardless of county lines.

In other words, a half dozen city counties in Georgia can dominate the whole situation, and the two and one representative counties might as well take to the woods.

Heretofore a county with one representative had one-third of the voice of the biggest county in the state in the choice of a governor, and the counties with two representatives had two-thirds of the voice of the biggest county, with three representatives each.

Now the proportion in favor of a few of the big counties may be 30 or 40 to one.

This is a beautiful scheme of the reform ringers, and, unless we are greatly mistaken, it is going to raise the most tremendous howl ever heard in Georgia.

No wonder Tom Watson, who has been fighting ring rule all his life, declares in last week's issue of The Jeffersonian that it seems to him that the people of Georgia have jumped from a "moderate sized frying pan into the biggest kind of a fire" in trying to escape ring rule.

This is the biggest issue ever raised for the country counties, and Georgia men who endorse this sort of an attack on their constitutional rights, they as well as "hang their harp on the willow tree," and get out of politics forever, for under this new rule the reform committee, revised and approved by Governor Smith, himself, the country counties of Georgia will have no more showing than a one-legged man at a dance.

But there is a way to prevent it, and that is, by turning out in full strength in the primary of June 4, to prevent the perpetration of the great

Polls properly signed will be gladly printed by The Constitution without regard to their political complexion.

Polls on the governorship race, accompanied by the name and address of the citizens taking them, will be gladly printed by The Constitution. Whether such polls show a majority of voters in favor of Governor Hoke Smith or Hon. Joseph M. Brown is immaterial to The Constitution, as it is concerned only in presenting the news of the campaign. In view of the popularity of this feature The Constitution will be forced to hold each poll down to the lowest possible words. Please send in the bare result, where and when the poll was taken and by whom, and add your name and address. It would be manifestly unfair for The Constitution to print the opinions of gentlemen sending in polls along with the polls. Facts are all that can be presented in this column. These will be welcomed and given due publicity, but all matter of opinion as to how certain counties will go in the coming primary will of necessity be eliminated. Here are some more polls on the contest:

M. A. Lindsey, Atlanta, Ga.
Poll Editor Constitution: At the terminal station Tuesday night from 8 to 11 o'clock at the bureau of information window a poll was taken by F. H. Nelson. For Brown 84, for Smith 19, non-committal 3. A. LINDSEY, Atlanta, Ga., April 15, 1908.

Dr. Joe. M. Tribble, Lithonia.
Poll Editor Constitution: Here is a poll of some of the voters of Lithonia, DeKalb county, taken by me in one hour this morning. I made the remark that I would get up 100 Brown men in an hour's time and won a hat in it. Here is the poll: Joe Brown 101, Hoke Smith 33, non-committal 36. This is a correct vote, as I asked each man if he was going to vote in the coming primary and this put those down who could and would actually vote. Three Brown men came to me and wanted to be enrolled, but my hour was up and I didn't count them. Yours truly, JOSEPH M. TRIBBLE, M. D., Lithonia, Ga., April 15, 1908.

T. J. Bazemore, College Park.
Poll Editor Constitution: Coming in on the street car from College Park, which reached Atlanta and Forsyth streets at 8:30 o'clock this morning, April 16, I took a poll of the gentlemen and found there were 22 on the car, of this number 13 were for Brown, 7 for Hoke Smith 2, non-committal 3. T. J. BAZEMORE, College Park, Ga., April 15, 1908.

J. P. Califf and Dr. J. G. Snappery.
Poll Editor Constitution: During a lull in business in the grand jury room here today a secret poll for governor was made with the following result: For Governor, Joe Brown 18, for Governor Hoke Smith 2, non-committal 3. J. P. CALIFF, Dr. J. G. SNAPPERY, Brown Superior, Jeffersonville, Ga., April 15, 1908.

Jim Reynolds, Dexter.
Poll Editor Constitution: On my way from Dexter to Dublin, April 14, on Wrightsville and Tennille train, the conductor polled the train and found out of 17 passengers, 10 for Brown and 7 for Hoke Smith. JIM REYNOLDS, Brick Mason, Dexter, Ga., April 15, 1908.

W. D. Word, Sasser, Ga.
Poll Editor Constitution: Following vote taken at Sasser Sunday, April 13, 1908. Brown 11, Smith 1, non-committal 5. W. D. WORD, Sasser, Ga., April 15, 1908.

TO BE INVITED TO ATLANTAMovement on Foot to Secure
Three Big Conventions.

At a joint conference between the county committee on auditoriums and the chamber of commerce committee on conventions held in the mayor's office yesterday at noon, it was decided to make every possible effort to secure for Atlanta the next year the annual meeting of the Confederate Veterans' Association, the convention of the American Cotton Manufacturers' Association, and the annual meeting of the Photographers' Association of America.

The veterans meet this year at Birmingham, Ala., and at least 7,000 will be in attendance; the cotton manufacturers meet in Richmond and the photographers in Detroit, Mich. About 1,000 delegates attend the meetings of the photographers and cotton manufacturers.

A resolution was adopted appointing a subcommittee, consisting of F. A. Quillian, S. R. Johnston and R. J. Quillian, to consult with the Confederate veterans' camps in the city in regard to inviting the Confederate Veterans' Association to Atlanta next year.

The city council, the chamber of commerce and the governor of the state will be requested to extend formal and pressing invitations to the three associations to honor Atlanta with their presence in 1909.

The new auditorium will be ready for next year and the chamber of commerce mentioned will make a fine opening year for the new edifice.

Pause for a moment and consider the reason why Clarke Bros. & Co. enjoy such a patronage that they are today the largest distillers in the world. Consider the money-making power of their business. FULTON VOTERS TO HEAR SMITHGovernor Speaks at the Grand
Tonight

TWO-HOUR SPEECH PLANNED

Will Discuss All the Issues of the Campaign in Detail—Arrangements for Handling the Crowd Have Been Completed.

Governor Hoke Smith will speak tonight at the Grand opera house, at 8 o'clock, in the interest of his candidacy for reelection as governor of Georgia, in which he is being opposed by former Railroad Commissioner Joseph M. Brown, of Marietta.

In this speech, which is expected to be at least two hours in length, the governor will go into the issues of the campaign and discuss them in detail. All of the arrangements attendant upon this speech were arranged at a final meeting of the subcommittee on arrangements which met yesterday afternoon in the Hoke Smith headquarters.

At this meeting Hudson Moore, chairman of the executive committee of the Fulton County Hoke Smith Club, presided. It was decided that the speaking was to be held under the auspices of the Fulton County Hoke Smith Club, of which Bartow H. Blount is president.

Opens at 8 O'Clock.
Promptly at 8 o'clock President Blount will open the meeting with a brief introduction, presenting Attorney Reuben Arnold, of Atlanta, who will introduce the governor in a brief speech.

The governor will make the only lengthy speech of the evening, and his address will conclude the meeting. The details of the meeting are in the hands of a committee composed of Hudson Moore, Shelby Smith, W. D. Harwell and Louis Gholston.

The doors to the opera house will be thrown open for admittance to the auditorium at 7:15 o'clock. Five hundred orchestra seats and all of the boxes will be reserved by ladies with their escorts.

The boxes are being given out by allotment and tickets. Back of the 500 reserved seats will be open to the public, as will the balcony and gallery. On the stage will be seated the Hoke Smith executive committee, composed of 500 men.

These are requested to enter the theater and go upon the stage through the stage entrance, which is reached by the Grand alley.

At the occasion will be furnished by Wadsworth's brass band of twenty pieces, and will give a program before the speaking begins, and will render a selection between the speeches.

Hundred Ushers to Seat Crowd.
In order to seat the crowd which is expected to attend this meeting, W. D. Harwell has been placed in charge of the seating, and has enrolled 100 members of the Hoke Smith Club to act as ushers, who will see to it that every one is seated.

It is not expected that there will be any procession, or the like, before the meeting, but the crowd will gather at the Grand on the appointed hour and enter to find the seats waiting for them.

The governor is expected to arrive in Atlanta at an early hour from Cairo, where he spoke on Thursday, and will probably visit his campaign headquarters during the day.

He will go to Dallas, Paulding county, to address the voters of that county on Saturday.

At the headquarters of Mr. Smith those in charge stated that the organization of the Fulton County Hoke Smith Club was being perfected rapidly, and members were enrolled by the hundreds daily.

They expressed themselves as being confident that Fulton county would be carried for Mr. Smith again.

It was also stated that the money posted for Mr. Brown, in regard to Fulton county, would be covered in a short while.

At Brown Headquarters.
At the "Little Joe" Brown headquarters at the New Kimball, Campaign Manager J. R. Smith stated that the reports coming in from all over the state showing that Mr. Brown was growing in strength. He stated that each mail brought reports of Joe Brown Clubs being formed and an organization perfected whereby the interests of Mr. Brown are to be protected at every precinct in the state.

It is thought that Mr. Brown will not be able to make the contemplated visit to south Georgia, as he had planned, because of the press of correspondence which keeps him busily engaged in reading his mail and dictating replies.

During Thursday the clerical force at the headquarters was engaged in mailing out buttons to the various counties in the state to get to it that every Joe Brown man would have a button to advertise his preference.

Mr. Brown is preparing another address to the voters of Georgia which will be given to the press and public on Saturday afternoon. Just what line this card will take is not announced.

WILL ESTABLISH CANNERY.
Baltimore Concern Will Establish Cannery at America.

Americus, Ga., April 16.—(Special.)—Representatives of a Baltimore fruit cannery company have closed contracts for buildings here and will establish immediately one of the largest fruit and vegetable canneries operated in Georgia. Assured of abundance of peaches from American orchards, the Baltimore company readily decided to establish the cannery, which will utilize an enormous quantity of fruit and vegetables.

Machinery will be started from Baltimore within ten days and will arrive in two weeks. The shipment will include boilers, canning machinery and tin cans. The plant will be ready for operation June 10 and will continue for six weeks, or as long as peaches are offered in sufficient quantities to justify keeping open.

Dr. Broughton, pastor of the Baptist

Tabernacle, and head of the new Tabernacle Institution church building enterprise, announces great progress in that work.

During the last three or four weeks he has secured, largely by correspondence, from friends far and near, about $10,000 to be devoted to the completion of the new Tabernacle Infirmary building, which is now going up on Luckie street, on a part of the property which is to contain the whole new Tabernacle enterprise.

The new infirmary is the first of a series of four buildings which are to constitute the new Tabernacle enterprise. The work on the infirmary building is making great headway. The roof is now on and the work of finishing the interior is progressing. It is hoped to have it completed by early summer. It is to be one of the largest and best equipped hospitals of any kind in the south. It has between forty and fifty private rooms, besides four large wards. Two of these wards are for children—one for general sickness and the other for cripples, where deformities of various kinds will be treated.

The new building is three stories high, and presents a most attractive appearance both from the outside and the inside. The cost of the building, when completed, will be about $50,000.

Unique Plan Adopted.
Three or four weeks ago, Dr. Broughton set to work to raise $25,000 in addition to the present subscription for the general enterprise, for the finishing of the interior of the infirmary. The plan that he adopted was that of sending a descriptive circular, accompanied by a personal appeal, to friends in various parts of the country, asking that they take the finishing of the rooms with prices ranging from $100 to $300, and the wards, price $1,000 each, besides the offices, operating rooms, laundry and other rooms in connection with the building which are priced in the same way.

The result of this effort has been most encouraging, as up to the present something like $10,000 has been received. The next to respond to this appeal was Dr. G. Campbell Morgan, of London, England, who, for his great church in London—"Westminster chapel"—gave $1,000 for the finishing of one of the children's wards. This ward will be called the "Westminster."

Two of the other large wards have been taken by parties who do not want their names mentioned, and $1,000 each has been given. Negotiations are now pending for the taking of the other children's ward—the one for cripples—and it is expected that within the next day or two this will be arranged.

Dr. Broughton desires to inform his friends and the friends of the infirmary, that there are still a number of the rooms that have not been taken. Besides, he is very anxious that somebody should furnish $1,000 with which to equip the new laundry, which will be in the basement. This is as much a necessity for the infirmary as any other party of it. Also he desires some one to take the finishing of the laboratory, the diet kitchen, the dining room and the kitchen proper. It is his plan to have every room in the building named with an appropriate inscription by the donors.

Another plan which he is operating is this: For every $5 contributed to the finishing of the new infirmary building, the name of the contributor is to be placed upon a plate, which will be placed in the main hall. This furnishes an opportunity for people of small means to help in this worthy enterprise, and at the same time for them to permanently identify themselves with it.

Mrs. Mims Lectures in New York.

Mrs. Livingston Mims, whose lectures on Christian Science are among the most widely quoted of any delivered by the members of the National Lecture Board, has returned from the north, where she has spoken before enthusiastic audiences.

The Troy Times of April 3 has a column devoted to the report of Mrs. Mims' lecture.

In introducing Mrs. Mims, Mr. E. K. Betts, a prominent citizen of Troy, said:

"Some eight or ten years ago in introducing this platform to the public, I said, 'Christian Science has come to stay.' That statement has a foothold in practically every civilized country in the world.

"Why? Because it is founded on demonstrable truth. Mrs. Mims, who will address this evening, needs no further introduction than that contained in her own invitation, but I will add just a word. She is one of the little company of earnest men and women who some twenty years ago bravely took their lives in their hands for conscience sake, giving up society and friends for what they believed to be the truth.

In those days was the standard bar for all the jokers. Times have changed, and now we have not yet yet quenched the million. Thousands of people are now happier and healthier for its teachings, and now I want to make another prediction. When, say ten years from now, we meet here again in this place, the majority of you will be numbered with us. I will close by quoting the words of a wise man. 'We do not pretend to be better than our neighbors, but we know we are better every way than we used to be.'"

The lecturer said in part:

"For centuries the theological world has held on to a theological religion founded on Jesus' words, irrespective almost entirely of His wonderful works. Christian Science, throwing on these words and words the lens of soul, reveals them as divinely correlated and brings in a practical, spiritual Christianity meeting human needs absolutely in every direction. It calls humanity to judge Jesus and His teachings by the fruits, the works, as Jesus desired. To the doubting and believing He sadly said, 'The works that I do in My Father's name, they bear witness of Me' (John 10:25). 'If I do not the works of My Father believe Me not. But if I do, though ye believe not Me, believe the works.'"

The hour has come when human need demands a more intelligent recognition of these works, when the works shall illumine the words.

All Christians do unite on the definition of God as spirit, all power, presence and omniscience; then wherein is the difference between other bodies of Christians and Christian Science? Simply in the logical, intelligent application and utilization of this truth. For instance imagine that we all stand together on this sublime platform or stage of God's aliveness, all presence and all power. An hour presents itself to consciousness the appearance of sin, sickness and death—the very opposites of God. The unscientific or illogical Christian immediately accepts as true this temporal phenomenon, and, filled with fear or grief, rushes for the physician or some other material remedy. The Christian Scientist, shutting his eyes to this material evidence or physical testimony, says, with Paul, 'Let God be true, and every man (mortal man) a liar." Standing firmly on his platform, with the logical, intelligent conclusion that if God is a Divine ever-presence, or as the Scriptures declare, a God at hand, then this seeming contradictory evidence cannot be true. This denial of evil and recognition of God is the simple process which he has seen later on. This makes the difference between a theoretical, non-healing Christianity and Christian Science, or practical Christianity.

CAIRO HEARS

HOKE SMITH

Governor Smith Spoke of the Accomplishments of His Administration.

Cairo, Ga., April 16.—(Special).—On account of the weather, Governor Smith was forced today to speak in the auditorium of the city hall-court house instead of in the open as he intended. The auditorium was filled by a large crowd.

The governor arrived at Cairo at 10:30, spoke over the Atlantic Coast Line. He was met at the depot by a large number of his supporters. His reception was cordial.

Governor Smith was escorted from the hotel to the auditorium by a committee of citizens. He was introduced in a most complimentary manner by Colonel M. L. Ledford, and his remarks were applauded.

Governor Smith made an address of about two hours' length. He discussed the accomplishments of his administration, and referred to the enactments of the last legislature. These references met with applause.

He spoke of an unholy alliance to defeat disfranchisement in the interest of the whisky interests.

The railroad commission bill, the work of the commission and the results that have been obtained were discussed by the governor.

State prohibition in Georgia was also elaborated upon. The governor detailing his position on this question. He declared that the cause of temperance should not go backward in the state. He declared that during the next three years the people of Georgia could rest assured that the enemies of prohibition would not emasculate the law without passing their amendments over his veto.

The governor explained his reasons for the removal of Hon. Joe Brown as railroad commissioner.

MOTHERS TOOK UP FIGHT STARTED BY CHILDREN

Mrs. Robinson and Mrs. Gentry Were Held at Rome Under $50 Bonds.

Rome, Ga., April 16.—(Special).—At a justice court trial in Lindale Wednesday afternoon the evidence told of a lively combat in which three feminine neighbors took part and in which hair was pulled, faces scratched and clothes torn. As a result, Mrs. Linda Robinson and Mrs. Jennie Gentry, sisters, were held under $50 bonds to the higher courts by Justice R. H. Fox.

The three ladies taking part in the difficulty, were the two above named and Mrs. F. A. Clements, all of them neighbors. Mrs. Robinson and Mrs. Gentry are sisters, living next door to each other, and Mrs. Clements lives across the street. The source of discord was the neighbors' children. This was the starting of the difficulty. The evidence showed that the children on one side of the street fought with those on the other, and the mothers took up the battle. Witnesses testified that Mrs. Robinson had dared Mrs. Clements to come out in the yard. The invitation was accepted and then the trouble commenced. As Mrs. Robinson seemed to be getting the worst of the fray, Mrs. Gentry rushed to the aid of her sister and planted a couple of blows that speedily put an end to the contest. A trial was had with result as above stated.

PUT WIRES UNDERGROUND.

Overhead Telephone Wires Soon to Be Thing of the Past at Rome.

Rome, Ga., April 16.—(Special).—Three carloads of conduits have been received by the Southern Bell Telephone Company to be used in conveying the wires of the company underneath Broad street and across the city. The city is to be paved. Manager Woodruff says the work of removal will be commenced in a few days, and before many weeks have passed overhead telephone wires will be a thing of the past in Rome. Other corporations operating in the city are being urged to begin to put them underground as soon as the necessary paraphernalia arrives. When this is done the long-wished-for paved streets will become a realization. It is very probable that Broad street will be paved in the center. There seems to be very little objection on the part of the merchants along the street, and the street car company favors it. The city has laid the large new 16-inch water main along the site of the proposed park, and there is little doubt that the park idea will be adopted.

THRILLING EXPERIENCE.

Captain Clarke Tells of Experience in Cyclone.

Rome, Ga., April 16.—(Special).—Captain J. B. Clarke was in Rome Wednesday from his farm near town and tells of a thrilling experience Mrs. Clarke and himself had in Wednesday's storm. They were on their way home from Armuchee, and encountered a storm of much greater severity than that which visited Rome. About six miles out on the Summerville road they ran into a cyclone. Captain Clarke said: "The storm struck us about 2 o'clock in the afternoon. It was a regular cyclone. I never saw it rain harder, sharper lightning, or heavier thunder. It seemed like the bottom of the sky had dropped out and the rain fell in sheets. I tried to leave the carriage, but could not stand up under the downpour. Lightning struck near us and the shock or thunder clap stunned my horse. He could hardly walk and almost died last night. Trees were falling all around us, and the wind blew a perfect gale, coming from three different sections in as many minutes."

ROADS MAKE COMPROMISE.

Injunction Against the South and Western Is Dissolved.

Asheville, N. C., April 16.—The suit of the Southern railway against the South and Western, involving the latter's alleged encroachment on the Southern's right of way near Marion, N. C., which was to have been heard this morning, before Judge Ritchard in the United States circuit court, did not materialize, a compromise having been reached.

The injunction against the South and Western company, restraining it from proceeding with its construction work at the disputed point, has been dissolved and the Southern's $5,000 bond withdrawn. The terms of the compromise are not known, attorneys for both sides refusing to discuss the case.

NAME "JELICO" CAUSE OF SUIT

Holland Says Keiley Appropriated Title of His Company.

Claiming that John Keiley, president of the Jellico Coal and Coke Company, a corporation under the laws of Tennessee, had appropriated the title of Jellico Coal Company's name, a corporation under the laws of the state of Georgia, John Holland, general manager of the last named concern, yesterday filed a petition in the superior court for $10,000 damages.

Mr. Holland alleges that Keiley appropriated the name of his company simply to reap the harvest of his labors here for many years, and to take away his business. The Jellico Coal Company is said to have been in organization long before the Jellico Coal and Coke Company established itself in this city.

The attorney for the petitioner are Evans & Spence.

Keen Rivalry Between the Two Teams and Much Interest in Game.

Macon, Ga., April 16.—(Special.)—Mercer university will meet Auburn tomorrow and Saturday afternoons at Central City park. Coach Bailey is highly pleased with the prospects of meeting Auburn on an equal footing and the indications are that there will be two very interesting contests. Both Mercer and Auburn have been making records that reveal strong teams and their tilt on the field at Central City park will be no slow affair.

The college community at Mercer stands eager to back the local squad against Auburn, for there is a keen rivalry that has grown up between the two schools.

Among those fighting for places are Hon. Joe Hall, Mr. Felder, if he announces, and Hon. Roland Ellis. SLAYER OF HIRSOWITZ GIVEN LIFE SENTENCE

Jim Madden, Negro, Found Guilty of Murder of Pawnbroker in February.

Jim Madden, the negro who was charged with having shot Jacob Hirsowitz, the pawnbroker, on the night of February 29, was found guilty of murder yesterday, and recommended for a life sentence.

Madden, in company with John Williams and Barnett Booker, entered the shop of Hirsowitz; Williams asked for a pistol, and snatched it from the pawnbroker, running out the door. Madden and Booker followed to shoot Hirsowitz. The three negroes were caught. Tom Frazer, who was in the county jail, told the detectives that Madden confessed to him of the murder, and was placed on the stand yesterday afternoon at the trial.

Detectives Doyal, Dorsett and T. B. Lanford were on the stand, and all testified as to the information they had received from the negroes in the Tower who were locked up with the prisoners.

The jury was out only a few minutes, bringing in the verdict of guilty. Booker and Williams will be tried Monday morning. The detectives state they have a better case against Booker than they had against Jim Madden.

THEATER PARTY SATURDAY FOR RICH BROS.' EMPLOYEES

Following their annual custom of giving to the employees of their great department store an outing in the spring, M. Rich & Bros. Company have reserved 300 orchestra seats for the Saturday evening performance of "Leah Kleschna," as being presented with such signal success at the Grand by the Giffen company.

For the past five years the annual outing of this big store has come to be an event looked forward to with eagerness and pleasure. Two years it has been a picnic, one year it was a theater party at the Casino at Ponce de Leon and two years a theater party at the Grand.

R. A. Guidry, of Opelousas, and Walter L. Jones, of Lake Charles, as delegates to the national republican convention at Chicago. The delegates will go unopposed. Resolutions endorsing President Roosevelt and commending Senator Foraker for his stand on the Brownsville affair were passed. The convention was made up principally of negroes.

On Tuesday Dan Rich attended a performance of this company and saw the production. He liked the play and through Lucien York negotiations were entered into with Henry DeGivie relative to reserving 300 orchestra seats on Saturday evening for the use of the employees.

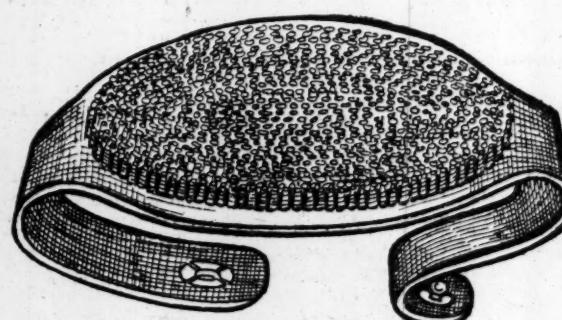

The trade was made and at once Mr. Rich notified those in his employ that reserved seats would be furnished them on Saturday for the performance on Saturday evening.

This will probably be the largest theater party given during the season, though it is probable that other large firms will follow this mode of entertainment.

BADELY STADY COTTON'S CLOSE
Net Decline of Nine to Fourteen Points.

Firmer Liverpool Cables Caused Advance at Opening—The Market
Soon Became Easier Under Realizing by Recent Buyers.

New York, April 16.—Trading in cotton was not active today, and prices eased off under comparatively moderate offerings, with the close barely steady. The decline of 9 1/4 points, which carried the market back to within 3 1/2 points of the lowest for the season, was due to the fact that the market opened steady at an advance of 1 1/2 points in response to firmer Liverpool cables and a renewal of yesterday's covering movement. But there was no talk of cooler weather in the south, there seemed to be nothing in the weather news to excite apprehensions as to the crop outlook so early in the season. At any rate, market eased off under realizing by recent buyers for a reaction, which may have been disappointed by the fact of a more urgent demand from shorts to develop, and after midday prices broke quite sharply following the announcement of the failure of a local commission house. This firm was generally known to be embarrassed earlier in the week, the heavy position held on Monday having been attributed to it, and the news of the sus-tention of the circulation of the statement through the country seemed to bring in some selling orders. The close was within a point or two of the lowest for the day.

Liverpool market will be closed until Tuesday morning. New York and New Orleans will be closed on Friday and Saturday, and Sunday morning.
